For Rose Gardner, working at the DMV on a Friday afternoon is bad even before she sees a vision of herself dead. Sheâ€™s had plenty of visions, usually boring ones like someoneâ€™s toiletâ€™s overflowed, but sheâ€™s never seen one of herself before. When her overbearing momma winds up murdered on her sofa instead, two things are certain: There isn't enough hydrogen peroxide in the state of Arkansas to get that stain out, and Rose is the prime suspect.

Rose realizes sheâ€™s wasted twenty-four years of living and makes a list on the back of a Wal-Mart receipt: twenty-eight things she wants to accomplish before her vision comes true. Sheâ€™s well on her way with the help of her next door neighbor Joe, who has no trouble teaching Rose the rules of drinking, but wonâ€™t help with number fifteen-- do more with a man. Joeâ€™s new to town, but it doesnâ€™t take a vision for Rose to realize heâ€™s got plenty of secrets of his own.

Somebody thinks Rose has something they want and theyâ€™ll do anything to get it. Her house is broken into, someone else she knows is murdered, and suddenly, dying a virgin in the Fenton County jail isnâ€™t her biggest worry after all.
